She doesn't want to live anymore
She has no reason to fight for
And how do you think you can change her point of view
She's feeling lonely, there's no one around
All she can hear is that silent sound
She wrote her parents a letter, just to say goodbye

A few days later they found her somewhere in the city
Isn't it a pity

Chorus: How many broken hearts are wandering the streets at night
 How many of them wants to give up life
 I wish that I could talk to them, to make them change their minds
 And give them a reason to live for

He's crying his tears without shame
All that she left him is a heart filled with pain
And now he's wondering why, why she left him here alone
He's feeling lonely, he's feeling blue
The only thing he wants to do
Is end this awful life and be freed from all his strifes

A few days later they found him somewhere in the city
Isn't it a pity

Chorus: How many broken hearts are wandering the streets at night
 How many of them wants to give up life
 I wish that I could talk to them, to make them change their minds
 And give them a reason to live for

Chorus: How many broken hearts are wandering the streets at night
 How many of them wants to give up life
 I wish that I could talk to them, to make them change their minds
 And give them a reason to live for
